Your words were found, and I ate them. And your word was to me the joy and rejoicing of my heart (Jeremiah 15:16)

I will pardon those whom I preserve (Jeremiah 50:20)

What a promise from God. The God who pardons, also is the God who preserves. God has granted us a full pardon on the basis of the shed blood of His Son, Jesus Christ. Jesus fulfills the righteous requirements of the Law in both His life and death. He then forever defeated sin and death by raising from the dead. In this way God can be both just and be the justifier of the one who had faith in Christ. He had taken the handwriting of ordinances which were contrary to us and He had taken it out of the way having nailed it to His Cross. As far as the East is to the West, so far has He removed our transgressions from us never to be remembered no more. Blessed is the man who the LORD does not impute iniquity. God sees us in the righteousness of Christ. The God who pardons also is the one who preserves. He who began a good work in us will be faithful to complete it till the day of Christ. He will never leave us nor forsake us and is with us even till the end of the age. He who justified us, sanctifies us and glorifies us. No one is able to snatch us from God's hands. As He preserves the Heavens and the Earth, so too He preserves us till the end.

"Now therefore, we are all present before God, to hear all the things commanded you by God." - Acts 10:33 To avoid distracting others please turn off cell phones before the service begins. Thank you.
