Your words were found, and I ate them. And your word was to me the joy and rejoicing of my heart (Jeremiah 15:16)

For our light affliction which is but for a moment is working for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory (2 Cor 4:17)

Notice how Paul describes affliction. He called it a "light" affliction. Considering the afflictions Paul went through listed in II Corinthians 11:23-28 we are be tempted to wonder if the afflictions he suffered affected his thinking in any way. The afflictions themselves were not light in any way, but Paul accounted or reckoned them "light" in comparison to what he was looking forward to, namely Heaven, of which he had a brief glimpse of. Paul wrote, for I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us (Rom 8:18). We often quote Romans 8:28 that all things work together for the good to those who love God and are called according to His purpose, yet we often have a different idea of what that "good" means. The good Paul has in mind is found in the next verse, verse 29, "For whom He foreknew, He also did predestinate to be conformed into the image of His Son, that He might be the Firstborn among many brethren. The light affliction is what conforms us into the image of His Son. Praise God.

"Now therefore, we are all present before God, to hear all the things commanded you by God." - Acts 10:33 To avoid distracting others please turn off cell phones before the service begins. Thank you.
