Your words were found, and I ate them. And your word was to me the joy and rejoicing of my heart (Jeremiah 15:16)

As many as are led by the Spirit of God, these are the sons of God (Romans 8:14)

We find that being led by the Spirit of God requires a willingness to be led, to be willing to yield in obedience even when we don't understand. Being a child of God, however, does not mean we will never face another trial or hardship. Some people preach that. Don't believe it. In fact, we are promised trials and tribulations because we are children of God. Jesus said, In this world you will have tribulation (John 16:33). Paul said those who desire to live godly lives will suffer persecution. Peter told us we are not to be surprised when trials come our way but to expect them (I Peter 4:12). Sometimes, trials and hardships are instigated by the Spirit Himself. Jesus, being filled with the Spirit was led by the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted by the Devil. The Israelites, in the Exodus, was led by God to the Red Sea with nowhere else to go with the Egyptian army right behind them. Yet, they are designed so that through them we might learn to have peace in Him, that the source of our peace would not be from what the world can offer but what God offers instead. Now may the God of all peace fill you will all peace as you rest in the arms of God.

"Now therefore, we are all present before God, to hear all the things commanded you by God." - Acts 10:33 To avoid distracting others please turn off cell phones before the service begins. Thank you.
