

And He said to me, "My grace is sufficient for you, for My strength is made perfect in weakness." (2 Corinthians 12:9)

Paul prayed three times that this thorn in the flesh would be taken from him. God said no. Why? We find that oftentimes God does not deliver us out of our trials and tribulations, but does deliver us through the trials and tribulations. Peter and the disciples was not prevented from going through the storm, wind and waves but was delivered through it. Daniel was not prevented from being thrown into the lion's den but was delivered through it. Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego was not delivered out of the fiery furnace but was delivered through it resulting in a revelation of our LORD that was not possible otherwise. How often is it that through the trials, we find ourselves gaining a fresh revelation of Jesus? What was it that Paul received from this thorn in the flesh? Grace. Sufficient grace. Abundant grace. That's what we need. Instead of praying for deliverance from the storm, we should be praying for sufficient grace to weather through the storm. Secondly, Paul received not only received sufficient grace but supernatural strength, strength in the inner man. Strength not his own, but whose source was from God. Jesus said My strength is made perfect in weakness. Paul writes, we were burdened beyond measure, above strength, so that we might not trust in ourselves but in God who raises the dead. May we also find grace and strength as did Paul to help in time of our weakness that we may be strong.
