

And beginning at Moses and all the Prophets, He expounded to them in all the Scriptures the things concerning Himself. (Luke 24:27)

Boy would I have loved to be privy to that Bible study. The two disciples were in a spiritual slump, discouraged over the events that recently transpired. Jesus is never closer than to those who are of a broken and contrite spirit. So how did Jesus encourage these two bummed out disciples? He pointed them to the Scriptures. Not just any Scriptures but specifically the Scriptures concerning Himself. It's been said that History is His Story. All of Scripture points to Jesus in some way. Jesus said, You search the Scriptures, for in them you think you have eternal life; and these are they which testify of Me (John 5:39). The angel stopped John from worshipping him and said, "Worship God. For the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy. David prophesied, "Then I said, "Behold, I come; In the scroll (volume) of the book it is written of me" (Psalm 40:7). He was not only the fulfillment of explicit statements but was also the fulfillment of the types and shadows of Himself. He was the Manna that was sent from Heaven (John 6:32-33). He was the Rock that followed the Israelites in the wilderness (I Cor 10:4). He was the bronze serpent that hung on a pole (John 3:14). He was our Passover Lamb (I Cor. 5:7). He was the veil that was torn asunder in the Temple (Heb 10:20). He was the broken rock that hid Moses while God proclaimed His name (Exodus 33:22). The Bible is a Jesus book!

Thought of the Week

"The very quality of your life, whether you love it or hate it, is based upon how thankful you are toward God. It is one's attitude that determines whether life unfolds into a place of blessedness or wretchedness. . . This is the only life you will have before you enter eternity. If you want to find joy, you must first find thankfulness. Indeed, the one who is thankful for even a little enjoys much. But the unappreciative soul is always miserable, always complaining. He lives outside the shelter of the Most High God. . . one of the most pervasive evil influences over our nation is ingratitude! . . . It is ingratitude itself that is keeping wounds alive! We simply need to forgive the wrongs of the past and become thankful for what we have in the present.

The moment we become grateful, we actually begin to ascend spiritually into the presence of God. The psalmist wrote, "Serve the Lord with gladness; come before Him with joyful singing. . . . Enter His gates with thanksgiving and His courts with praise. Give thanks to Him, bless His name. For the Lord is good; His lovingkindness is everlasting and His faithfulness to all generations" (Psalm 100:2, 4-5).

It does not matter what your circumstances are; the instant you begin to thank God, even though your situation has not changed, you begin to change. The key that unlocks the gates of heaven is a thankful heart.

Entrance into the courts of God comes as you simply begin to praise the Lord."
